Advice and Suggestions for Engraving

Block font is easier to read than script, especially on small pieces such as jewelry. Capitalizing the first letter of each word will help make it easier to read. Our engraver does not recommend engraving in all caps if you choose script font.

The engraver will enter text exactly as it is typed (capitalization, punctuation etc.) on the order, so please review your details carefully. We cannot issue refunds or replacements for misspellings, errors etc. once the text is reviewed and approved.

Each piece has a character limit which includes spaces between words and punctuation. Sometimes the engraver can squeeze in an extra letter or two upon request, so ask us if you need assistance.

Photos and images for engraving (paw print, nose print, or photo jewelry) must be high resolution to turn out well. If you're unsure, send us your image and we can check with the engraver. We can help you get images for paw prints and nose prints with advance notice.

Proofs are available upon request (will increase the turnaround time by 2-3 days).

Most engraving is highly customizable - share your vision and we can help you turn it into an amazing memento! Actual nose or paw prints, photos, and even handwritten notes can be added to many pieces for an additional cost.

When will I get my piece?

We will submit your order to the engraver once we receive approval and payment. Most items are engraved and shipped the same day they are received (Monday - Friday). Shipping comes to our office via USPS Priority Mail, usually within 7-10 business days. We will contact you to arrange delivery once we have received and quality checked your order.
